

SHIP LIQUOR RULING MAY BURN VICTORIA

British Columbia Port Ready to Supply Pacific Liners With Wet Goods.

WELL SUITED FOR BASE Ships Can Call There on Way to and From Seattle and Other U. S. Points.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD, VICTORIA, B. C., Nov. 11.—If the Daugherty ruling prohibiting the carrying of liquor into United States ports is sustained, Victoria may become the liquor base for foreign steamships plying the trans-Pacific route.

Nearly all the steamships operating between Seattle and other Puget Sound ports and the Orient call at Victoria inbound and outbound. Consequently it will be comparatively easy for foreign vessels to discharge their forbidden stock at Victoria on their way to United States territory and load again on their way to the Far East.

Local interests plan to make the most of their opportunity to share in the new trade. In British Columbia the government controls the sale of liquor in a manner similar to the government of Quebec.

British and Japanese steamships would be the principal participants in the arrangement. When the Daugherty ruling was first announced there was some talk that the Japanese line would eliminate the call at Seattle and Tacoma, Wash., in favor of British Columbia ports exclusively rather than eliminate the sale of liquor on board but the establishment of trade connections will probably prevent such a development.

Advices from Japan indicate that the Nippon Yusen Kaisha and Osaka Shosen Kaisha, the principal Japanese shipping companies operating in the North Pacific, are uncertain as to their course.

RECOMMENDS DIVORCE FOR MRS. ELSIE FRAZEE

Referee Reports on Suit Against Theatrical Man.

Abraham Stern, 31 Nassau street, filed his report as referee in the Supreme Court yesterday recommending that Mrs. Elsie Frazee be granted a divorce from Harry H. Frazee, theatrical producer and owner of the Boston Red Sox. The divorce action was started in March, 1921.

The referee's report discloses provisions which Mr. Frazee made for his wife under a separation agreement and stipulation concerning alimony which they drew up in 1918. Three years after these agreements Mrs. Frazee released her dower claim in Mr. Frazee's estate in return for the gift of a house in Oak Park, L. I., one-half interest in the $100,000 insurance policy, subject to such loans as he may make with her consent, the payment of $40,000 within two years after the execution of the agreement and a life interest in one-third of his estate, should Mr. Frazee die before Mrs. Frazee. This share of the estate will be payable to their nineteen-year-old son, Harry H. Frazee, Jr., when he becomes 35.

Another agreement was made in which Mr. Frazee pledged that he would pay $12,000 a year alimony and allow his wife $2,500 for counsel fees. Mrs. Frazee will have custody of the son and permission to resume her maiden name, if the report of Mr. Stern is accepted.

The suit was based on allegations of misconduct with a Miss Nelson in Great Neck during the 1918 agreement. The formal beginning of the action.

NEW YORK UNIVERSITY BALANCE SHEET GOOD

Chancellor Reports Upon New Relations With Arts.

The financial situation of New York University is vastly improved, Chancellor Elmer Ellsworth Brown informs both trustees and students in a double report. Gifts from the general public, both from the Carnegie Foundation and contributions from the alumni have aided the university to pay off long standing indebtedness and to make important improvements, notably at the Washington Square center.

"We are just on the verge of new things in our relations with the fine arts of the city," Chancellor Brown says. "Already we have entered into highly important affiliations with the Altman Foundation and the schools of the National Academy of Design and the new men in the university council will be of great help. These are Dr. William H. Nichols, Gen. John J. Carty and Percy S. Young. We have a new system and management of university athletics. More than ever let us make this an honest university, a friendly university, standing for beauty, truth, good taste, self-restraint, a sense of proportion and the elevation of its ideals."

While in New York Dr. Kaufmann will be the guest of J. E. Dockendorf, president of the Black Diamond steamship company.

CALIFORNIA DRY BY 29,621

Eighteenth Amendment Voted Part of State Constitution.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 11.—The Eighteenth Amendment to the Federal Constitution, with the Volstead act, has been voted a part of the California laws by a majority of 29,621 votes. The vote was, For, 497,952; against, 578,331.

First returns indicated an overwhelming defeat of the measure, but the negative majority was cut down by belated returns.

The dry victory came after prohibition proposals had been voted down at intervals for ten years.

Three Hunting Tales Vie for Season's Prize

DEER are reported as numerous in Sullivan county this year, and hunting tales also are plentiful. Here are three of the latest:

James Coach of Glenwild shot a fine buck election day. He left it in the woods while he went home to get his automobile. On his return he found that some one had stolen the animal.

Leo Naylor, living south of Monticello, says he saw a buck racing across his dooryard Friday afternoon. He seized a hammer and chased the deer for 500 yards, when it dodged and got away.

Herman Berger of Monticello was driving his automobile, in which were four companions, when the car hit a bump, discharging his rifle. After passing through his leg, he reported, the bullet went through the gas tank, knocked two spark plugs from the engine and ripped a hole in the radiator.

MISS ALICE SHAKES THE MUSKOGEE DUST

Will Get Her Summer Clothes and Quit the Place That Insulted Her.

MUSKOGEE, Nov. 11.—Miss Alice Robertson, the only woman in Congress, who was defeated for reelection Tuesday by the man she unseated in the Republican landslide of 1920, says she was "insulted by the citizenship of the city for which I long have fought and made sacrifices," and that when she leaves Congress next March she will come back home to Muskogee just to get her summer clothes.

Miss Robertson said she felt she had not been treated fairly by the citizens of her home town, who rolled up a heavy majority against her Tuesday.

"It was purely a business proposition of sending me back to Congress," she said. "I didn't want to run two years ago, and it was only after much urging that I consented, but now I'm through."

"For thirty-seven years I've lived in Muskogee and was born within ten miles of the city, and I have always fought for the good of Muskogee, just as I did while I was in Congress. I had no other reason for doing the same things I have done in Congress and vote just exactly as I did. I owe Muskogee nothing."

She is now bordering the city, which Miss Robertson has owned since 1908, probably will be placed on the market soon as the last bit of property left in her name here, she said.

"Miss Alice," as she is known in Muskogee, said she had nothing to come back to here. She said she had a place waiting for her in the Woman's Bureau of the Department of Labor in Washington.

"Would you take it if it were offered to you?" she was asked.

"I've got to do something, haven't I, and I haven't a cent income after I leave Congress," she answered.

11 SEIZED WITH 1,000 CASES OF WHISKY

Raid Made on Famous Blackwell's Mansion.

Working on a mysterious tip furnished by a rival bootlegger, police seized 1,000 cases of whisky, valued at $100,000, in a raid yesterday on "Blackwell's Mansion," 151 Fulton street, Astoria. Eleven alleged members of a whisky selling syndicate were taken into custody.

The raid was conducted under orders from Dana Wallace, Queens District Attorney, to whom the tip came. The house, which was once the home of the family for which Blackwell's Island was named, had once been a center of social life on Long Island.

Watchers observed two automobile trucks, labeled "Farmers and Florists Supplies" and "Window Supplies," drive up to the front of the house and the chauffeurs go in. Soon afterward, ten men, each carrying cases of the liquor came from the house and were arrested. By tapping the walls were the compartments with sliding doors were located and the liquor cache unearthed.

The arrested men, all released in $500 bail, were Pasquale Ventiglia, 1941 street, Manhattan; Dominic Ventiglia, 157 Fulton street, Astoria; William Pansensberger, 157 Fulton street, Astoria; Frank Albee and his four sons, Edward, Michael, John and Joseph, all of 157 Fulton street; Antonio Aloise, 157 Fulton street; and Louis Cole, 340 Sixth avenue, Long Island city.

La Guardia, Republican, for Congress in the Twentieth district, filed a Supreme Court order with the Board of Elections yesterday to compel the board to show cause why the ballots should not be examined. Frank charged the former President of the Board of Aldermen with fraud, intimidation, attempted bribery of election officials and inaccurate canvassing of votes.

The order is returnable to-morrow. Accompanying it is a petition with supporting affidavits charging that the returns are false and untrue. The vote as declared by the board of inspectors was La Guardia, 5,492; Frank, 5,224; Karlin, Socialist, 5,251; and Salutsky, Workers party, 95. Defective ballots numbered 511 and 711 were counted blank.

DEMANDS WESTERN MAN FOR SPEAKER

Governor Preus of Minnesota Launches Boom for Representative Anderson.

ATTACKS EAST'S CONTROL

West Does Not Like Congress Organization and Wants St. Lawrence Project.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD, New York Herald Bureau, Washington, D. C., Nov. 11.

Gov. J. A. O. Preus of Minnesota launched a boom here today for Representative Sydney Anderson (Rep.) of his State for Speaker of the House. He said one of the real reasons for the defeat of Republicans in Tuesday's election was the prominence of New Englanders in the control of the Senate and House.

"The upheaval in the West," said he, "is due to a great extent to the unpolicy and dissatisfaction with Congress. The West feels that it is controlled by the East and in the interest of the East."

Gov. Preus said he had no personal feeling against New England statesmen, but the people in his country do not like the present lineup in the organization of Congress. He also said that the St. Lawrence Canal controversy had angered many Western Republicans.

"With all respect to the splendid men, such as Vice-President Coolidge, Speaker Gillett and Senator Lodge, the Speaker of the House, the majority leader of the Senate, the presiding officer of the Senate, the chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee and the chairman of the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee of the House all come from Massachusetts. More Western men who know Western needs are required to take a leading part here."

"For this reason Representative Sydney Anderson is being strongly urged to become a candidate for speaker to succeed Speaker Gillett. The opposition of many in New England, but especially New York, to the St. Lawrence waterway project is thoroughly resented at a time such as this when thousands of bushels of potatoes are rotting on the farms because they cannot get cars to ship them in."

"One day last week 1,233 cars of wheat were standing on the tracks at Duluth and could not be unloaded because the warehouses were full and because the boats would not take the grain and transport it to Buffalo because elevators and warehouses were full, and these were full because there were not cars available to carry the grain to New York."

"In the face of such conditions New York, its Chamber of Commerce, its splendid but misguided Governor are opposing the St. Lawrence waterway so that they may continue to take toll in the eighteen Western States interested in the Great Lakes project for transportation purposes, to muster a corporate's labor."

"If Gov.-elect Smith of New York takes the same attitude as his predecessor he could not get enough votes in the eighteen Western States interested in the Great Lakes project for transportation purposes, to muster a corporate's labor."

"President Harding, who favors the treaty, is popular but not Congress, which our people feel is organized without due recognition to the West."

COURT RULING SAVES $2,000,000 FOR CITY

Property Owners Assessed for Classon Ave. Sewer.

By a decision yesterday in the Brooklyn Supreme Court Justice James C. Crosey saved the city of New York nearly $2,000,000 of the cost of constructing the Classon avenue sewer.

Justice Crosey held that the city must pay only a tenth of the cost, while property owners benefited must stand the remainder. The property owners contended the city should pay two-thirds.

The total cost was $2,247,000. Of this amount, $344,000 was borne by the city. The total number of parcels of property affected by the assessment is 43,380. The total of property owners is no fewer than 31,578.

Fleet Whisky Runner Eludes Coast Cutter in Week's Chase

Ye smugglers of rum, Beware of the crew And the captain bold Of the Kikapoos!

The captain of a mysterious fishing smack ambled around in Atlantic waters six or seven miles off Cape May, N. J., evidently Irish. He must have been a little joke. For more than a week he has flouted the Coast Guard cutter Kikapoos and repeatedly declined the invitations of the Government ship's chaser to come within the three mile limit for a game of "hide and seek."

The chase goes merrily on as the little rum runner, owned by prominent citizens, according to the correspondent at Cape May, persistently turns her stern to the Kikapoos and scoffs. The fishing smack is a faster vessel than the Kikapoos.

The ire of the prohibition navy has been aroused and while the captain of the smack so far has kept his craft in the unformed region outside the three mile limit a determined effort is being made to prevent the contraband-laden vessel from landing her cargo.

Cape May prohibitionists have volunteered to stand guard along the beach to lay violent hands upon the "voluminous rum runners" if they come ashore and.

In Volstead's name The captain and crew Will do their best With the Kikapoos.

DRY NAVY RUNS DOWN WHISKY ARMADA BOAT

Chaser Gets Craft Returning From Three Mile Limit.

With the seizure yesterday of the motor launch Greyhound, laden with 200 cases of whisky, the dry navy chaser Hansen, commanded by Capt. J. H. Dizer, made the first capture of a vessel operating between the coast and the "whisky armada," anchored four miles at sea. P. H. Johnson and George Engel, customs inspectors, effected the seizure.

The Greyhound was overhauled a mile and a half off Sandy Hook and escorted into the Brooklyn army base pier, where the contraband was unloaded. Gary Wilson, of Bedford, N. C., and Thomas McCormick, of Perth Amboy, N. J., operators of the Greyhound, were taken into custody. They will be arraigned to-morrow before Samuel P. Beason, United States Commissioner, at Hoboken.

The whisky taken from the Greyhound, according to Wilson, was loaded on from a liquor schooner anchored three and a half miles off shore Sheepshead Bay and Coney Island. The cargo is valued at $20,000.

$25,000 BRIBE OFFERED TO HALT LIQUOR SEARCH

$600,000 Whisky Cache Believed to Be at Stake.

A bribe of $25,000 was offered a Federal investigator for the prohibition enforcement department yesterday if he would "quash" the liquor search warrant issued by Federal guards from a warehouse at 407 East Tenth street. The place was seized Monday on a search warrant issued by Samuel M. Hitchcock, United States commissioner. A cache of liquor, said to be worth $600,000, is believed by prohibition officials to be hidden under 15,000 tons of salvaged newspaper paper stored in the place.

Benjamin Strumpf, lessee of the warehouse, denies that any liquor is under the water soaked paper. He asserts that he purchased the paper to be sold as junk and that a $12,500 check made payable to him by Max Kessler, alleged "king of bootleggers," was the repayment of money he loaned Kessler.

Sixteen men to-morrow will begin excavating the thousands of rolls of paper. John D. Appleby and other prohibition department officials are confident that liquor is secreted there.

WILLS WOMAN CLERK TWO-FIFTHS OF ESTATE

The will of Charles F. Larzelere, for many years owner and publisher of the Daily Hotel Reporter, who died November 7, was filed in the Surrogate's office yesterday. It disposes of an estate estimated at $50,000. Two-fifths goes to Mrs. Harriet E. Larzelere, the widow; one-fifth to the children, Walter B. Larzelere, and the remainder to Josephine L. Powers, who was in the testator's office for many years. Of the last named housewife, Mrs. Larzelere said: "I make this devise and bequest to Josephine L. Powers in recognition and appreciation of her long and faithful services to me, which have largely contributed to my success in business."

WOMEN TO CONDUCT EQUALITY CAMPAIGN

Adopt Declaration of Rights Demanding Opportunities Such as Men Have.

EQUAL HOURS OF LABOR

National Woman's Party Will Work in Every State for the Sex.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—Officers of the National Woman's Party, representing women of thirty-three States, today unanimously adopted a far reaching declaration of rights as the basis for a country wide campaign, demanding equal rights for women in the home, church, industry and Government.

Debate at the opening session of the two day equal rights conference centered principally around two planks in the declaration which demanded that: "Restrictions upon the hours, conditions and remuneration of labor shall apply alike to both sexes," and "that women shall no longer be barred from the priesthood or ministry, or any position of authority in the church, but equally with men shall participate in ecclesiastical offices and dignities."

Speakers on the labor question argued that industrial regulation should apply to women and men, and that women did not ask special legislation. Led by Mrs. H. P. Belmont, national president of the party, other speakers declared that as women were the mainstay of the church and principal educators of their children in religion they should enjoy equally privileged of leadership in the pulpit.

To carry out the plan of equality the conference then adopted a plan of campaign reaching into every State where legislatures are to meet this year to stir sentiment among both men and women in favor of the equal rights declaration. Equal rights sentiment would be stimulated equally with men to positions under local, county and State governments.

Mrs. John Rogers of New York, chairman of the advisory council of the party, presided over to-day's session. To-morrow morning there will be a conference of women lawyers from all parts of the country, and in the afternoon the equally busy relay with men for the disposal of several important party questions.

TOWN BUYS 800 COFFINS.

BEHLIN, Oct. 28.—Officials of a little village in Thuringia have purchased wholesale 800 coffins, enough for every one in the city, to assure residents that they will not be victims of increasing prices.

FAKE RABBIT SELLING WINE WILL BE HALTED

Yellowley to Confer With Jews in His New Campaign.

A campaign against "fake rabbis" who have been flooding New York with wines will be inaugurated this week by E. C. Yellowley, acting prohibition enforcement director. Leading members of Jewish congregations will confer with Mr. Yellowley, probably Wednesday, for the purpose of effecting plans to eliminate the spurious clergymen who are selling wine withdrawn for alleged sacramental purposes.

Thousands of gallons of wine withdrawn on permits by alleged rabbis are being sold throughout the city. Mr. Yellowley said. The most feasible means of stopping this, the prohibition director believes, is to require a registration of rabbis with a department supervised by reputable leaders of the Jewish faith.

Mr. Yellowley announced the revocations of liquor permits held by the following druggists: Herman Rich, 42 Catharine street; D. E. H. Steinberg, 651 Blake avenue, Brooklyn; Mariano Selmea, 216 East Nineteenth street; Charles P. Thornton, 31 Jerome avenue; Janakia, L. J.; Fordham Drug Company, 751 East 18th street, The Bronx; Aaron Rosenberg, 98 Clinton street; Gastano La Gamba, 53 Oliver street; William H. Alt, 2747 Atlantic avenue, Brooklyn; Levy & Bloomfield, 592 Seventh avenue; Herman S. Wilson, 1402 Newdick avenue, Brooklyn; Jose Schwan, 468 Central Park West; Maximilian E. Guck, 236 Utica avenue, Brooklyn, and Gibbs Drug Company, 240 Delaware avenue, Buffalo.

WETS ASSERT CONGRESS WILL MODIFY DRY LAW

Hope to Make Converts After Election Successes.

Walter Jeffreys Carlin, general counsel of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, issued a statement last night detailing the effects of the recent election on the possibility of modifying the prohibition amendment. The statement follows, in part:

"The success attending the efforts put forth by the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment in various parts of the country indicates the possibility of the passage of liberal legislation in the next session of Congress. They will strike the first blow at the more stringent provision of the Volstead law.

"A thorough analysis of the results indicate that there will be sufficient strength in the lower house of Congress to give a proposal to modify the law increased support. We calculate that there will be in the new session of Congress a total of 205 'wet' votes, and it seems certain that a sufficient number will be changed from 'dry' to 'wet' to give the modification a majority vote."

NINE WOMEN STEAL TO GRATIFY VANITY

Four Shoplifters Get Prison Sentences—One Is a Girl of 17 Years.

Women, whose desire for pretty clothes led them to steal, made up the majority of ten shoplifters arraigned in Special Sessions yesterday before Justices Kernochan, McInerney and Murphy.

Nine of the prisoners were women, of four who drew prison sentences one was a girl of 17 and the others a man of 68. The others were let off with small fines and warnings.

Mary Goldstein, 17, of 1488 Madison avenue, was sent to Inwood House until she is 21, following her conviction of stealing a dress valued at $44.75 from a Broadway department store. Miss Mary Mangano, probation officer, told the court the girl had been convicted on several occasions in Children's Court for similar offenses and that she appeared unable to resist the temptation to steal. Volney clothing store, Anna Gordon, 23, of 69 Norfolk street, Hoboken, who admitted stealing two dresses valued at $26 from a Sixth avenue store, told the court that she had been a drug addict for thirty years and that the craving for narcotics had driven her to steal the dresses to get money to buy drugs. She was sentenced to six months in the workhouse for ten days.

Mary Cotman, 46, of 326 Bloomfield street, Hoboken, who admitted stealing a hat worth $10, in her possession were found other articles of apparel, stolen from other stores. She was sent to the workhouse for ten days.

Joseph Liller, 68, who for twenty years had been employed as a butler in prominent New York families, confessed to stealing articles valued at $5 and was sentenced to six months in the workhouse. Liller speaks six languages, he told the court.

With Election Past Planning Begins

Raymond-Whitcomb Report Increased Interest in Winter Recreation. Men and Women who need Rest turn to America's Leading Travel Concern

The Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, San Francisco and other offices of Raymond-Whitcomb report that immediately following Election Day there has been a sudden awakening of interest in winter recreation.

Men and women who have been undecided, possibly without any real reason, but because of the biennial upset characteristic of American life, are now making their plans to go on some of the great, unrivaled cruises and unsurpassed land tours of America's oldest travel concern.

Today the wise man and wise woman realize that there is an investment to be made in recreation which does not involve relaxation, lassitude and boredom. None of these menaces to will and health could possibly find room on board a Raymond-Whitcomb Cruise.

The expense is undoubtedly less than equivalent comforts and facilities at the great winter resorts or even the Riviera for an equal time. Furthermore a Raymond-Whitcomb Cruise gives the needed break from daily business and social cares. There are new surroundings, new scenes and a constantly changing atmosphere—both literal and figurative. Besides, there is the beneficial effect of avoiding monotony. There is a constantly changing panorama—new lands, new views, novel scenery, strange and interesting peoples and all the kaleidoscopic enjoyment that the Cruise affords, with comforts as great as a great hotel and all for a reasonable charge.

Bookings for the Resolute, the famous, luxurious ship going round the world, sailing from New York Jan. 9; the Volstead, offering the most reasonable rates for a cruise round the world, sailing from New York Jan. 16; the Reliance sailing from New York Feb. 3, for South America and the West Indies; the Rotterdam for a cruise to the Mediterranean sailing from New York Feb. 10, are all showing a notable increase. Inquiries for land tours to Mexico, once more reopened to the American public to whom Raymond-Whitcomb originally introduced the land of Aztecs and Conquistadores are rivaling the bookings for California, Florida and Hawaii.

For further particulars regarding these tours and cruises see the Raymond-Whitcomb advertisement on the travel page. Booklets can be obtained by applying in person, by mail, telephone or telegraph to Raymond & Whitcomb Co., 225 Fifth avenue, Telephone Mad. Sq. 6270.
